

On June 2nd Doc our habitat specialist said...

switchgrass

Planting season is currently underway, slow, but moving forward.

Don't be discouraged, it is not too late. Most grain crops require the soil to steadily rise in temperature in order to have successful germination.